

Second Baptist School Uses Spanning to Avoid Disaster

The Challenge

Second Baptist School knows the pain of dealing with a major data disaster. “We have lost a large amount of important data before. There were several computers that were infected with a virus years ago, and it wiped out entire machines. We were able to recover some of the data, but not all of it; the way the virus erased the data, it had started to write over it as well. It took over 3 days to recover partial data from one machine, and we had about 4-5 infected. It was a long process.”

Implementation

Knowing that something like this could absolutely happen again, even after they’d switched to Google Apps, Second Baptist School’s Blake Skidmore started looking for backup solutions and decided to try Spanning Backup. During the trial process, one of the administrators lost some important data, which Spanning Backup was able to quickly recover. They’ve been a customer ever since.

A user-friendly interface that provides important data at a glance. The ability to quickly restore a single piece of information or everything. Automatic backups that you hardly have to think about. There’s a ton of great features to love about Spanning Backup.

Results

How has their experience been using Spanning Backup?

“We actually had to use Spanning again this morning; one of our employees lost an email they needed to send out, and they were able to retrieve it themselves in under a minute with guidance on how to recover emails. She was elated and will be showing her department the service.”

That’s just one of almost a million emails we’re backing up for Second Baptist School, along with calendar events, contacts, folders and documents. All that data is accessible - even if the worst happens.
