KEEP EDUCATION MOVING FORWARD WITH SPANNING BACKUP.

Educators and IT teams work together as the driving force of change in education technology to create more collaborative and enriched educational experiences. With so many crucial responsibilities on their shoulders, education professionals involved in IT initiatives in their organizations shouldn't have to worry about whether files, records, and emails will be there when they're needed. Protecting critical student data, research files, alumni data, and more is easy with a backup and restore solution like Spanning Backup on your side.

Educational institutions are rapidly adopting SaaS applications like Google Apps, Office 365, and Salesforce, yet IT administrators are often surprised to learn that they are not fully protected from data loss due to human error, hacking, malicious behavior, sync malfunctions, and mistakes in collaboration. That means you are not protected from data loss if any of these scenarios happen to your organization:

- You accidentally delete your Google Docs-based syllabus

- A file sync corrupts important alumni donor data in Salesforce

- A researcher needs to quickly restore deleted Office 365 emails to finalize a submission

That's why we created Spanning Backup. It automatically backs up your SaaS data so you can quickly and easily restore what's lost, enabling educators to focus on what they do best: educating the minds of tomorrow.

SPANNING BACKUP PROTECTS SAAS-BASED DATA

Spanning helps educational organizations work in the cloud with confidence when using leading SaaS applications like Google Apps for Education, Office 365, and Salesforce. Spanning Backup provides automated, daily backups of your application data and the ability to restore any lost or deleted data back into your environment from any point in time. The restore process is so simple that both faculty and students can quickly and easily recover lost or deleted data without calling in an IT expert. Now that's smart.

TRUSTED BACKUP MEANS NEVER WORRYING ABOUT DATA LOSS.

Spanning Backup delivers the most trusted, reliable backup and recovery for SaaS applications including Google Apps, Office 365 and Salesforce. Our powerful and easy-to-use solutions provide:

- Automated and on-demand backups: The software is so powerful that you can set it and forget it, yet also gives you maximum control over your data.

- Industry's most advanced recovery: Our recovery process restores your information with files structures, sharing settings, and metadata intact. The point-in-time feature allows you to restore any historical version of data. Plus, you can restore a single file or an entire account. We'll even give you a recovery estimate time.

- Easy-to-use data search and restore: The user interface is so intuitive that students and teachers are empowered to resolve their own data loss issues.

- Advanced administration and complete status monitoring: Our software gives admins meaningful insights into backups, alerting them to any errors.

- World-class security: We maintain industry-leading security standards, including SSAE 16 SOC 2 compliance, and 128-bit SSL and 256-bit AES encryption.

> "When we moved to Google Apps, we knew we had to have some kind of backup. My understanding was that Google could restore your account, but there's no guarantee that they could restore a single email or folder, and that could be critical."
